Welcome and Review

Peggy Bagnoli welcomed the workgroup and provided a brief summary of the August 31st workgroup conference call. The call focused on developing ideas on the Open Space session at the National Radon Conference in Orlando.

Ideas for the 2011 National Radon Training Conference Open Space

- Who's going to Disney World?: Peggy asked the workgroup who planned on attending the upcoming conference. Of those participating, all mentioned that their state will be represented at the conference. NJ mentioned that their attendance is still pending approval.
- Attending CRCPD Training: About half of the states on call mentioned that they would attend the CRCPD sponsored training on Airflow Dynamics in Buildings on Sunday afternoon.
- Open Space: The workgroup decided that in order to maximize the time of all who may participate in the open space, we need to focus on getting states and labs to buy-in on 1) standardizing data collected and submitted and 2) participating in CDC's pilot program. Peggy will send a summary of our objectives and list of potential titles for the Open Space session for workgroup review and approval. Folks emphasized the need for personal invitations for labs and CDC in order to have a productive discussion.

Next meetings are scheduled for September 28th and October 12th.
